KARBON ZERO SPEAKS AT PROMINENT NEW MEXICO LAW FIRM

Albuquerque, NM — Karbon Zero's President, Ednen Hindi and VP of Projects, Anthony Apodaca spoke at a lunch discussion group hosted by Pregenzer, Baysinger, Wideman, and Sale, P.S., a well known law firm serving Albuquerque, NM and surrounding areas. Pregenzer, Baysinger, Wideman, and Sale, P.S., is one of a handful of firms who are involved in renewable energy development.

Mr. Hindi and Mr. Apodaca spoke to the firm on the complex legal and regulatory challenges involved in wind energy development. "New Mexico is a leading producer of wind energy in the U.S.," Mr. Hindi says. "It is critical that our State remain on top of the renewable energy curve, including any legislative and regulatory issues."

The talk covered topics such as land use and zoning regulations, environmental concerns, real estate, and commercial law, as well as emerging developments in legislation and regulatory policy.

Pregenzer, Baysinger, Wideman, and Sale, P.S., handle complex legal issues for a wide range of clients and are a top authority on business issues relating to renewable energy development. Mr. Apodaca stated, "Talks like this help to ensure that New Mexico remains at the forefront of issues surrounding the wind energy industry."
